Magnifica Humanitas (Magnificent Humanity) E

On Safeguarding the Human Person in the Time of Artificial Intelligence

Pope Leo XIV

MAGNIFICA HUMANITAS, Pope Leo XIV's first encyclical, speaks directly to one of the most urgent questions of our time: What does it mean to remain fully human in the age of artificial intelligence? With pastoral depth, the first American pope offers a compelling Christian response to the rise of digital technocracy and power, showing how faith, reason, and the rich tradition of Catholic social teaching can guide society through rapid technological change.

Drawing on Scripture, Church history, and the Social Doctrine of the modern papacy, Leo XIV explores how AI is reshaping work, education, family life, politics, warfare, and public truth. While acknowledging the remarkable potential of technology, he warns against systems that reduce people to their productivity or "efficiency," offering a hopeful vision rooted in dignity, solidarity, justice, and the common good. Both intellectually substantial and accessible to general readers, Magnifica Humanitas is an essential document for Catholics, Christians, ethicists, and anyone concerned about the human future.

“Who but the saintly Cardinal Sarah could write such a magnificent book at this critical hour in the Church’s history? With candor and perspicuity, he holds nothing back.”

—Fr. Donald Haggerty, Author, The Hour of Testing

2050 Prospects for the Church E

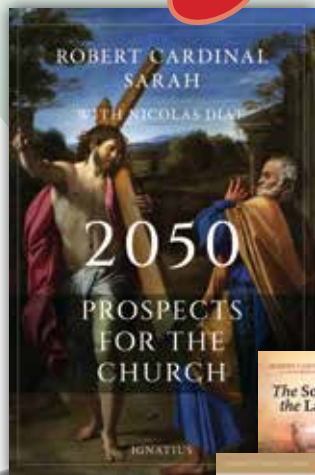

Cardinal Robert Sarah with Nicolas Diat

CARDINAL SARAH returns with this must-read rumination on his hopes, fears, and realistic predictions for the Catholic Church in the coming decades, with a special view of his home continent of Africa and the pontificate of Leo XIV.

With characteristic directness, intensity, and depth, Cardinal Sarah addresses the liturgy, mission work, religious vocations, tradition, atheism, the papacy, and the family, among many other current issues. In every case, our only path to freedom is radical, loving fidelity to Christ and to our Creator. In His Eminence’s words, “to submit to reality is already to submit to God.”

Unlike what the world preaches, the answer to the seemingly unsurmountable challenges of today and of tomorrow is not mere economic prosperity. After all, Cardinal Sarah says, “the worst violence does not arise from the shantytowns but is plotted in the gilded salons of the powerful, in the felt-lined cabins of the luxury yachts.” The answer is not a new Church, for “the Church needs, not to be reconstructed, but rather to be purified. Not to be reformed, but to be sanctified.”

Today, there is perhaps no voice more credible and resonant than that of Cardinal

Sarah. He is a prophet not of doom, but of renewal. This book compiles his invaluable insight on current issues into one approachable volume.

The Promises of Christ E | Milton Walsh

WE LIVE in a world of tremendous technological advances and material comfort, and yet more and more people—many among the young—struggle with despair and hopelessness. A powerful antidote is found in the remarkable promises made to us by Jesus Christ in the gospels.

This book invites readers to “take Jesus at his word” and draw strength from what he promises. For some people, his promises seem to be too good to be true. But they are true, and he proves it. For others, the temptation is not that the promises are too good, but that they themselves are too bad: they could never be worthy to receive what God wants to give. But Jesus first spoke these promises to weak, sinful, people, and that is whom he addresses now.

Written in a straightforward, non-technical style, this book helps the reader pause and ponder the words of Jesus, so often stale from repeated hearing. His promises are great indeed, nothing less than the path to life eternal!

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen will be beatified on September 24!

The Power of Love

Fulton J. Sheen

Bishop Sheen discusses the radical transformation of love from the Catholic perspective which has helped change the world as we know it. Written with his usual clarity and brilliance, this work gets right to the heart of the matter, presenting penetrating insights into the various aspects of love in such a way that the reader is stirred to a deeper realization of the crucial role love must play in his everyday life.

It explores the nature of love, drawing on theological and psychological insights to show how divine and human love provide true happiness, heal brokenness, and connect us with God, the source of love.

First Line of Defense The Catholic Man's Call to Heroism E

Doug Barry and Daniel O'Connor

A MAN—ESPECIALLY a father—is called to defend, protect, and foster what is noble and good. Indeed, it is for this he was created, not only spiritually, but physically. Bravery is written into his very being. Men can only be truly happy when they have laid down their lives for the Kingdom of God.

But despite society's promotion of health and fitness, modern life has all but quenched man's heroic spirit, smothering it with lame distractions, from fantasy sports to petty internet debates, or killing it with evils like pornography. Even the "manliest" of men often put comfort first, scrolling their phone while their family, neighborhood, or parish goes to seed.

This work aims to spark a revolution, reawakening men to their deepest identity—not as “alpha” or “sigma” males, but as soldiers of Christ. To come fully alive, we must rediscover the courage of the apostles, who risked pain, humiliation, and death in the pursuit and defense of the truth.

First Line of Defense is for men in every walk of life, reminding them that they are called to be great. With directness and clarity, Doug Barry and Daniel O'Connor show what it could mean to live a heroic life of duty, courage, strength, sacrifice, and dedication—that is, to be a saint.

The Intentional Household E A

Living as if People Matter

John Cuddeback

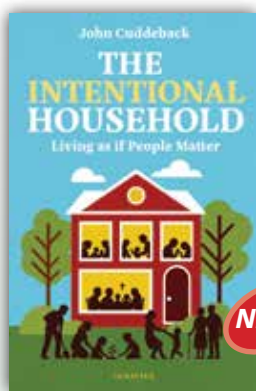

THE HOUSEHOLD IS the center of daily life, where relationships thrive through shared work and leisure. Yet for decades, we have not lived as though this were true. The result: Widespread unhappiness, isolation, and meaninglessness.

Philosopher John Cuddeback invokes timeless wisdom to help breathe new life into our homes. Focusing on eight simple principles, The Intentional Household gives profound directions for crafting the shared life we naturally crave for ourselves and our loved ones. Our souls were made for a living community at every phase of life.

Building this community, however, takes time and focus. More and more people are discovering that good work and edifying leisure in the home are a key not only to healthy families, but a flourishing society. Cuddeback explains how and why, utilizing great thinkers from all ages. From Plato and Aristotle, to Cato and Cicero, to Wendell Berry and Leonard Sax, he deftly reveals the inner workings of a vibrant home.

Today's household must be an intentional household, carefully crafted in view of what really matters: true happiness. We cannot do this alone.

Kingdom Come

Unveiling the Mystery of Salvation

Scott Hahn with Celeste Fortenberry

CHRONICLES IS THE key to understanding not just Israel's history but our own story in Christ.

The historical books of 1 and 2 Chronicles may not have the immediate allure of other Old Testament books, yet hidden within the genealogies, royal histories, and liturgical rubrics is the design, pattern, and plan for the New Covenant.

In Kingdom Come: Unveiling the Mystery of Salvation History, renowned biblical scholar Scott Hahn and Celeste Fortenberry frame 1 and 2 Chronicles as theological treasures uniting the Old and New Testaments. From Adam to Abraham to David to Jesus, the Chronicler presents the comprehensive story of salvation. Kingdom Come in turn makes that story comprehensible.

The fascinating layers of typology present in 1 and 2 Chronicles reveal the undeniable reality of God's plan—worship, covenant, priesthood, and more—culminating in the establishment of the kingdom of God on earth: the Church. Far from a segment of Scripture to ignore, Chronicles is a living word, relevant and revelatory, that Kingdom Come accentuates for all Christians today.

The Heart of All Nations Faith and Hope in the Holy Land E

Cardinal Pierbattista Pizzaballa

PIERBATTISTA CARDINAL PIZZABALLA, O.F.M., has lived, studied, and worked in the Holy Land since 1990, first as a student of Scripture, then as the custodian of the Holy Land, and finally as the Latin patriarch of Jerusalem.

He describes himself as “part radical and part museum curator—a radical in preaching and living the Gospel, but a protector of the Christian memory, faith, heritage and story that weave us into one believing people over the centuries”.

But he is more. Cardinal Pizzaballa has led his flock hopefully and unflinchingly through the horrors of war, offering his own life during the hostage situation of October 7, 2023, and calling constantly for an end to hostilities. Through years of darkness, he has spurred the persecuted Christians of the Holy Land to “a vibrant testimony of faith and belonging”.

Imbued with the spirit of Saint Francis, this beautiful work includes many talks from Pizzaballa's years as custos and apostolic administrator of Jerusalem, as well as a robust appendix of material from his time as patriarch. “As the Apostle Paul spoke about the breadth and length and height and depth of God's love (Ephesians 3:18),” explains scholar Jeff Cavins, “so Cardinal Pizzaballa speaks of the breadth and length and height and depth of the Holy Land.”

Is there hope for peace in Jerusalem, indeed, the world? Yes—through Christ alone. The Heart of All Nations calls Christians not only to experience Jesus' radical peace in their hearts, but to bear it courageously into a turbulent age.

Edited by Angela Costley and Gavin D'Costa

Can you be a Jewish Catholic? At first glance, the idea could seem scandalous. Catholics affirm that Jesus is the Messiah; Jews do not. Jews hold that the Torah's precepts should be diligently kept; Catholic Christians hold that Christ has fulfilled the Law. Can they really be reconciled?

This essential collection examines the question of Jewish-Catholic relations from every angle. With contributions from some of the Church's brightest theological minds, it probes the possibility of Hebrew Catholicism, nurturing its Old Covenant roots from within the Church.

Thinking Like a Saint

Discernment of Spirits in the Catholic Tradition

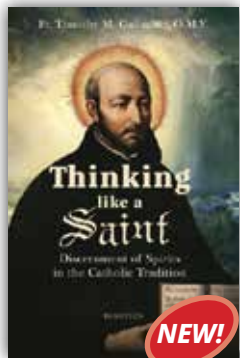

Fr. Timothy Gallagher, O.M.V.

THIS BOOK SITUATES ST. IGNATIUS of Loyola's classic fourteen rules for the discernment of spirits within the larger Catholic spiritual tradition.

Each chapter provides a brief explanation of the rule in question and then presents the parallel wisdom of other saints and spiritual figures. A fundamental truth about Ignatius' rules underlies this approach: He helps us grasp, often for the first time, the spiritual experience that always occurs in our hearts and thoughts.

In his rules, Ignatius describes universal spiritual experiences. We find similar teaching from other spiritual writers and saints that appear in this book, including Augustine, Francis of Assisi, Thomas Aquinas, Thomas à Kempis, Teresa of Avila, John of the Cross, Thérèse of Lisieux, Francis de Sales, and more.

On Conscience

Joseph Ratzinger (Benedict XVI)

PREPARED AND CO-PUBLISHED by the National Catholic Bioethics Center in Philadelphia, this book is a combination of two lengthy essays written by Cardinal Ratzinger and delivered in talks when he was head of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith. Both talks deal with the importance of conscience and its exercise in particular circumstances.

Ratzinger's reflections show that contemporary debates over the nature of conscience have deep historical and philosophical roots. He says that a person is bound to act in accord with his conscience, but he makes it clear that there must be reliable, proven sources for the judgment of conscience in moral issues, other than the subjective reflections of each individual.

Evidence for Christ

How We Know that Jesus Is the Messiah | Jimmy Akin

WHO WAS THIS man named Jesus? A prophet, maybe—or a fraud? Some say he was only a “wise teacher” whose followers later deified him. Still others think his very existence is a myth.

For Christians, he is the true Messiah: the one sent by God to fulfill Jewish prophecy and save the world from sin and death.

In Evidence for Christ, veteran apologist Jimmy Akin presents a full array of reasons to believe that Jesus is truly the Messiah—the Christ—building a step-by-step case that is both meticulous and exhilarating to follow. In it, you will examine what it means to be the Messiah, according to Judeo-Christian tradition; the secular evidence affirming Jesus as a real historical person; a rich mosaic of messianic predictions in Scripture and Jewish literature, and how Jesus uniquely fulfills them all; how the Gospel accounts of Jesus' life and works—especially his resurrection from the dead—validate his messianic identity and make him worthy of our belief and love ...and more!

Henri de Lubac

THIS COMMENTARY BY Henri de Lubac on Dei Verbum, the Second Vatican Council's Constitution on Divine Revelation, is a treatise on revelation and faith which remains strikingly relevant today. In pages nourished by Scripture and the Fathers, pulsating with a profound love for Jesus Christ, and attentive to the uncertainties of our time, de Lubac tells us what constitutes the heart of Christianity and the axis of his own life: Revelation is inseparable from the gift God makes of himself to man, and faith is nothing other than the acceptance of this unimaginable gift, communion in the very mystery of God.

Introducing Communio Theology | Tracey Rowland

FOUNDED IN THE EARLY 1970s by Henri de Lubac, Hans Urs von Balthasar, and Joseph Ratzinger, among others, the Communio school of theology emerged as a response to the theological currents following Vatican II. More a dynamic sensibility than a school of thought in the strict sense, Communio theology seeks to harmonize critical theological pairings—nature and grace, Scripture and Tradition, faith and reason—through dialogue rooted in friendships and shared commitment to the Church.

NEW!

In Introducing Communio Theology, Tracey Rowland offers an accessible yet profound exploration of this influential theological movement. Delving into the contributions of key Communio scholars over the past fifty years, she examines pressing theological questions such as the reception of Vatican II, the understanding of Tradition, scriptural inspiration and exegesis, moral theology in the modern world, feminism, the nature of priesthood, contemporary ecological concerns, and the causes of secularism within the cultures of modernity and postmodernity.

Blood and Water

The Life and Martyrdom of Shahbaz Bhatti

Matt Yocum,
Illustrated by Jordan Holt

IN THE EARLY 2000s, Shahbaz Bhatti was known worldwide as a courageous Christian voice for religious freedom in Pakistan. Shahbaz lived an exemplary life, daily demonstrating heroic love of neighbor, speaking out for victimized religious groups in his home country. Unafraid of death threats from extremists because of his advocacy, he followed Christ, regardless of the cost. His tragic murder by the Pakistani Taliban rocked the world in March 2011.

This graphic biography vividly chronicles Shahbaz Bhatti's extraordinary life (1968–2011). His convictions were shaped by his Catholic faith and illuminated by courage, service, and sacrifice. Through powerful artwork woven with Gospel episodes that mirrored his mission, Blood and Water offers an unforgettable portrait of a servant-leader who refused to be silent in the face of injustice.

A Novel about St. Catherine of Siena

De Wohl devotes his considerable talents to an interpretation of one of the most unusual women of all time, Saint Catherine of Siena. Her career was extraordinary. In that confused and dangerous era of history, the Pope was living at Avignon: Catherine persuaded him to return to Rome. The City-States of Italy were at war with each other: Catherine subdued them. There was pestilence: Catherine served and saved. She performed miracles, she received the stigmata, she drew about her a crowd of devoted men and women. A saint who would not let the Lord God alone, she really did lay siege to heaven—and changed the face of her world.

USA 250TH ANNIVERSARY CATHOLICS IN AMERICA

NORTH AMERICA, as detailed in Kevin Starr's magnificent books Continental Ambitions and Continental Achievement, was originally colonized largely by Roman Catholic powers. As the English colonies became the United States of America in 1776, there were already Catholics living throughout the country, making their impact on history. Get to know this history and the holy men and women who have helped shape America in these books!

Continental Ambitions Roman Catholics in North America: The Colonial Experience Kevin Starr

Kevin Starr has achieved a fast-paced evocation of three Roman Catholic civilizations—Spain, France, and Recusant England—as they explored, evangelized, and settled the North American continent. This book represents the first time this story has been told in one volume.

The Lord Holds Us by the Hand Private Homilies (Seasons and Feasts) E A

Pope Benedict XVI

WHAT DID POPE Benedict XVI teach and preach when he was out of the limelight, behind closed doors, among friends? In his late years, after the noise of the papacy had quieted down, how did he understand Scripture—Jesus, the Holy Spirit, the Christian life? When he had the room to be vulnerable, what did he say about the heart of his own spirituality?

In The Lord Holds Us by the Hand, we experience a different side of Joseph Ratzinger. This collection of private homilies—all delivered off the public record in small chapels, during his years as pope and pope emeritus—reveals not a “detached exegete”, as his longtime secretary Archbishop Gänswein notes, but a Christian in “lively participation” with God. In these meditations, never before published in English, “exegesis, theology, catechesis, and spirituality intertwine and join together, leading the listener to enter in depth into the heart of the mystery of Christ.”

Training the Tongue And Growing Beyond Sins of Speech

Fr. Gregory Pine, O.P.

Gossip. Lying. Flattery. Crass words. As we grow in Christian maturity, many of us are aware that we fall frequently into sins of speech. As this brief book shows, by cultivating healthy habits, we can effectively crowd out sinful speech and experience the gift of our tongue as God intended. Fr. Gregory Pine, O.P., directs our attention to the primary purpose of speech—communion with God and each other.

Hans Urs von Balthasar on Discernment, Vocation, and the Priesthood

Jonathan Ciraulo

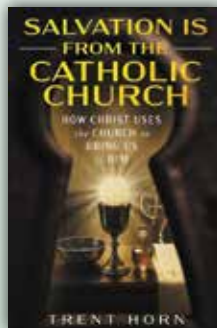

In theologian Hans Urs von Balthasar's view, a priest is called to imitate the Eucharistic Christ, who gives himself with abandon for the life of the world. He should aspire to be as common and as humble as bread, available to be blessed, broken, and distributed. This concise book presents Balthasar's theology of discernment and vocation in a way that responds to questions regarding the viability of the priestly and religious vocations today.

Salvation Is From the Catholic Church

Trent Horn

How do we access Jesus' saving work? By what means, in our everyday lives, does God deliver us from sin and lead us to eternal life? Apologist Trent Horn offers a compelling Catholic answer: it is indeed Jesus who saves us, and he does so through the instrument of the Church that he founded and ordained for that very purpose.

Healing Wounds

Bishop Erik Varden

In Healing Wounds, Erik Varden examines the New Testament where it spells out why Christ's wounds were efficacious for the healing of humankind. He contends that while this theological perspective is fundamental, it often falls short of addressing the emotional and spiritual needs of believers. Varden employs a contemplative tone, inviting readers to sit with their own experiences of pain and consider how these might be transformed through faith and introspection.

Blue Miles A Monastic Novel E*Fr. Thomas Esposito, O.Cist.

THIS INTRIGUING fictional memoir of Padre Samuel, a Cistercian monk, weaves together his tumultuous life story with reflections on his life in a monastic community.

Monks have always been a gloriously strange lot, and the monastic vocation attracts people who are quirky, grumpy, often hilarious, and uniquely sensitive to the alluring mystery of God. As the life of Padre Samuel shows, monks strive, through the rigors of community life and the conquering of the “old man” inclined to selfishness, to become saints.

This novel unveils portraits of the various characters, both comedic and tragic, of Presentation Abbey as viewed through the eyes of the elderly Padre Samuel. It brings readers into the silence of the cloister and introduces them to a monk who has allowed his suffering to draw him closer to Christ. The novel is a prayerful testimony to the fierce demands and consoling mercies of the monastic life.

An Ardent Heart

The dramatic story of Lupe Valdés, a best-selling writer who investigates the apparitions of the Sacred Heart of Jesus in search of inspiration for her next novel. Guided by an expert in sacred mysteries, she discovers the historical evidence of the mystical revelations of the Sacred Heart to St. Margaret Mary, meeting in the process with saints, murderers, exorcists, popes, presidents, conspirators . . . and encountering both miracles and evil crimes. During her intense investigation, Lupe discovers the deep secrets of both the Heart of Jesus, and of her own heart that is afflicted by old wounds in need of healing.
